THE DIABETIC

EDITORS NOTE:

I apologise for not having brought out The Diabetic for the September issue, but I had an enforced stay at the Strang Hilton for four and a half weeks, with a gap of a couple of weeks, and then over two weeks as a return visit, which made it impossible to get The Diabetic out on time.

Not to mention three amputation operations, culminating in the below knee amputation of my right leg, and a visit to the Intensive Care Unit.

The general consensus of opinion was to skip the September issue and bring it out in December as usual.

Again with profuse apologies which were through circumstances beyond my control.
